PROTOTYPE DESIGN

What we think, Prototype Design, should be about.

The context in which we would be representing Prototype, is in the real estate form. A generic form, in which forms the basis for other to follow, which also serves as a unit of form, or block model in a real estate project.

In a real estate project, prototypes are used to create, various types of product, based on the multiple of the 1st prototype, or differentiation and variation of the 1st prototype.

The use of prototype, is to simplify the layout, by creating zones and segments, for various activities.

The Prototype Project we showcase here, is for our real estate project in Lekki. With Prototype 1, used to create prototype 2, by simple multiplying prototype 1 by 2.

Prototype 3, is a multiple of prototype 1, by simple multiplying prototype 1 by 4. This procedure, can be used to create many more derivatives of prototype 1.

Each Derivative, resulting in a new prototype, by basis of variation, addition, subtraction, division, and multiplication of Prototype 1. The elements of Prototype 1, can be used to calculate, and evaluate various components, that makes up prototype 1.

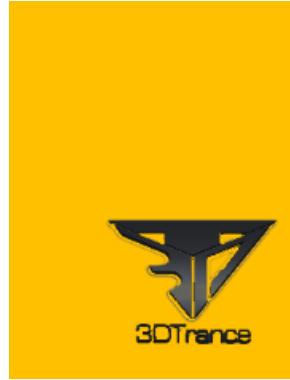

Therefore, would make mass production easy, and also reduce cost, due to wholesale purchase of elements and components. Prototype in this case, can adopt any architectural style, from classical to neo-classical architecture, post modernism to contemporary architecture. Prototype are easily adaptable and flexible.

ADUGBO OKE

Concept by Stephen and Toyin, while visualization by Olalekan. Conceptual form was inspired by whirlwind forces, that collide and reduces as it increase in altitude. Which was Makoko, Lagos, Nigeria.

A Collaboration for Evolo Skyscraper Competition 2013 with

- Stephen Ajadi (founder of African Collaborative Institute of Design {ACID}),
- Toyin Lawal (Design Team Head at CPP) and
- Olalekan Afolabi (Managing Director at 3DTrance).

ENDLESS FOUNTAIN

The Endless Fountain was created as a landscape feature, in a residential building, we designed.

The constant flow of water, which create a concept of endless. No end, no matter how much the higher mould gives, it never ends up growing on his own.

Concept relating to life, as long as you are close to your source, you would always be refilled.
